I just spoke with her. I indicated there are a 100 issues still in play and that after the budget is finalized we will see where we stand. She says the House number was going to be $10 million but now it may go up to $20 million but be switched to IVPA. The legislators seem to also want an audit. She is very worried about the audit of the past two years just because it is time consuming etc. I was pretty clear that we will wait till the dust settles.

Hi, Jerry. I'm in the office developing some communications to legislators and grantees on the latest House proposals re NRI, and it would be really helpful to be clued in on whether and what actions the Gov's Office is taking in this matter.

Please call me this afternoon if you can at (312) 814-1514 (office) or [redacted] (cell). I will also try to call you.

I'll be driving down to Springfield in the morning (Monday) to be there by 10:30 for the reconvening of the House.

Thanks,
Barbara
