And I've gotten to know her over the years, as -- as many of us have. And she is just a remarkable person - polite, kind. Has seen probably her fair share of activities on the Senate Floor, more so than most, over the course of many years. And she keeps us fed, which is a good thing. Thank you, Madam President. To the resolution.

SENATOR RADOGNO:

Okay. No problem.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LIGHTFORD)

President Cullerton, to the resolution.

SENATOR J. CULLERTON:

Yes, thank you, Madam President, Members of the Senate. So I attended the funeral of Senator Rock in February and, think about this, he's a former President of the Senate and I was attending the funeral of a former President of the Senate, and when you're the current President of the Senate, you start to think about future funerals of former Presidents of the Senate. So it gets - it gets a little emotional. And the thing that was so striking, for those -- if anybody was there, there were a lot of people there. I was thinking to myself, there's no way I'm going to draw this kind of a crowd when that inevitability happens. I mean, it was packed, and he was the President of the Senate twenty-three years ago. It was so overwhelming - it really, really was. So, I'm the only one, I believe, that served with Senator Rock. Senator Trotter and I were talking last night that perhaps he may have come a few days before Senator Rock left. But he just -- I just can't tell you what -- what a great guy he was. And for me - if I can kind of set the stage to -- to let you know how much I appreciated him - I had been serving in the House for twelve years

STATE OF ILLINOIS
99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY
REGULAR SESSION
SENATE TRANSCRIPT

90th Legislative Day

3/10/2016

and I was the Floor Leader in the House for Speaker Madigan. And back then, in 2001, a lot of the Senators over here thought that Speaker Madigan had too much power and he was kind of dictatorial and he was kind of running the place, the General Assembly, and he didn't really cooperate with the Democratic Senators. Thank God those days are over! So when I come over here, I'm Madigan's guy and the rest of the caucus was not very accepting, even my seatmates were suspicious of me. But Senator Rock was the guy who took me under his wing. He was fantastic. He gave the greatest speeches, without -- the best order I've ever served with, with - with never -- seemingly never any preparation. He told me he learned it when he was in the seminary. So -- and then I would highly recommend you read his book. Usually the best part of a book is not the title, but in his case, it might be the case: Nobody Calls to {sic} Just (to) Say Hello. That's -- it was a great book. There was even another -- when he served here, he did not really have a lot of extra votes, he would say. Okay? He -- he -- he said he never had thirty votes, he had thirty bodies, and -- 'cause there was just a lot of -- of different factions within the caucus. And in the book, he says, every morning he would get up and he'd -- he'd get -- grab his razor and he didn't know whether he should shave or slit his throat. That's in the book as well. So, he has a -- a great family. We, of course, saw them and visited with them at the -- at the funeral. And he was just such a -- a -- a standout guy. His picture's right up there. And I just wish more of you would have known what a -- what a super guy he was. And I -- I got to just tell you for -- after all these years, I still miss him. Thank you.

Leader Radogno, for what purpose do you rise?

SENATOR RADOGNO:

Thank you, Madam President. To the resolution. I, as the Senate President pointed out, did not have the opportunity to serve with President Rock, as most people in this Chamber did not. But I had met him on a few occasions and he was certainly always very engaging and friendly and bright, so I wish I had had that opportunity. But I certainly knew him by reputation. When I got here, which is -- he wasn't quite as far removed as he is now from his service. I also did have the opportunity to read his book, which I -- is great for everyone to read now because there's a lot of folks who are still around who are in that book, so it's kind of interesting to read it. But the thing that I did hear a lot about him is what a terrific leader he was, that he had great respect for the institution, that he was a terrific orator, as Senator Cullerton pointed out, and that he was a fierce advocate for the people that he represented. The other thing we always hear about with Senator -- President Phil Rock is that he was very much a -- a compromiser, someone that could bring people together. That's certainly a good lesson for all of us right now, an example that we can try to follow. I'm quite certain, though, as things happen, that he -- every day in the Senate back then was not a picnic, but, still, that he's remembered for bringing people together is something that we should all aspire to. And I think, again, that's a particularly timely message with the difficulties that we're facing. I can only hope that people will remember me as someone who tried to bring people together. I think that's the best legacy that someone could possibly have. So I just want to say on behalf of the Senate Republican Caucus, past and present, that we deeply appreciate him for his service, for his example, and deepest condolences to his family and friends who will miss him. Thank you.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LIGHTFORD)

Thank you. Leader Harmon.

SENATOR HARMON:

Thank you, Madam President, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate. There are so many things I would like to say about -- about Phil Rock, a -- a remarkable man. At the funeral -- well, I -- I hope that his family, who could not be here, may be listening to us discuss this resolution. At the funeral, his son, Jay Rock, did a remarkable job of talking about all the wonderful things Phil Rock was besides a Senator, and that was wholly appropriate and just a -- a -- a -- a remarkable speech, where we laughed while we tried not to cry. But the truth is that for twenty-two years, he prowled this Floor with a presence rarely seen and his accomplishments in this Chamber were quite defining. And -- and I know that only -- only one or two of us in this room served in the Senate with him, but his shadow still casts an awful long path over this Body. When I first arrived from Oak Park, I -- I was amazed at how many people pulled me aside, grabbed me by the arm, and in quiet and reverential tone said, "I worked for Senator Rock." And it was this wonderful warm embrace, but many times, I felt like an imposter, like there would only be one Senator from Oak Park and it was not me. But that -- that support and quiet encouragement I got from so many folks who he had touched, who had worked for him or with him, was remarkable and that continues to this day. You know, much is made of the "Madigan minions", that network of people who work for the Speaker; I would say that the

99th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

"children of Phil" have had even a -- a more profound impact, 'cause in my experience, they have consistently chosen some of the lower profile but more meaningful roles to make sure that government continues to function in a -- in a responsible manner, and those choices were often less lucrative than others available to them. But I am so impressed with the dedication of the people who served in State government under Phil Rock and have continued to this day to help those wheels turn. After he passed, the one thing I heard most consistently was just how decent and fair he was. I saw President Emil Jones after he passed and he said, "Phil Rock was the most fair legislator with whom I ever served." And I know that Emil is quite a judge of fairness. And -- and that kind of legacy is one that I think is remarkable. You know, we talk from time to time about term limits for leaders. There are only two people to my research who have served more than ten years as the Presiding Officer of a Chamber. One is still in office. But Phil Rock served fourteen years as President, and I know that when he retired, there were many people who wished he could have served longer. I -- I've told this story many times, but it certainly fits this occasion. When I was deciding after college to go to law school, it came as a great disappointment to my mother, who did not think too much of lawyers apparently, and she tried to discourage me from doing that. But I proceeded through law school and started to practice law, and when I told her I was getting into politics, she suddenly thought that practicing law was a very noble profession and perhaps I should just keep doing that. When she realized that -- that there was no turning me back, she grabbed me and said, "Well, if you're going to be a politician, at least be one like Phil Rock." And I don't think that better advice could be given to any of us here in this Chamber than to be politicians like Phil Rock. So, Godspeed, my friend, so say I, so say we all. Thank you, Madam President.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LIGHTFORD)
