1 autonomy, and decision making, should be based on a contract 2 model designed to result in a negotiated agreement between the resident or the resident's representative and the 3 4 provider, clearly identifying the services to be provided. 5 This model assumes that residents are able to direct services provided for them and will designate a representative to 6 7 direct these services if they themselves are unable to do so. 8 This model supports the principle that there is an 9 acceptable balance between consumer protection and resident willingness to accept risk and that most consumers 10 11 are competent to make their own judgments about the services 12 they are obtaining. Regulation of assisted living establishments and shared housing establishments must be 13 sufficiently flexible to allow residents to age in place 14 within the parameters of this Act. The administration of this 15 16 Act and services provided must therefore ensure that the residents have the rights and responsibilities to direct the 17 scope of services they receive and to make individual choices 18 19 based on their needs and preferences. These establishments shall be operated in a manner that provides the least 20 21 restrictive and most homelike environment and that promotes 22 independence, autonomy, individuality, privacy, dignity, and 23 the right to negotiated risk in residential surroundings. Ιt is not the intent of the State that establishments licensed 24 25 under this Act be used as halfway houses for alcohol and substance abusers. 26
