12. Does your agency provide budget allocations for Native American Employment Programs? If yes, provide budget allocation for these programs:

The IOC does not specifically allocate resources to any one category, rather provides resources for recruitment and training overall. Additionally, resources may be made available to an employee who may be interested in participating in specific training associated with minority associations.

13. What steps has your agency undertaken to ensure that all administrative staff responsible for hiring, interviewing, recruitment and EEO are complying with all legislative mandates of the Native American Employment Plan?

The EEO/AA Officer and the Director of Human Resources monitors and reviews hiring/promotional forms to ensure that whenever possible qualified minorities including Native Americans are recruited and/or hired. Additionally, the EEO Officer communicates regularly with HR Director to report on addressing underutilization of protected classes.

14. List all agency activities undertaken in implementing the State Native American Employment Plan:

- a. Native American employment strategies (including employment, recruitment, internships, community linkages, etc.)

The IOC posts vacancies on the office intranet, internet, various educational institutions and social media outlets in effort to attract minority candidates. The IOC employs Community Outreach Liaisons to assist with disseminating employment opportunities, including internships, as part of their duties. Additionally, resources may be made available to an employee who may be interested in participating in specific training associated with minority associations or programs.

- b. Promotional programs that provide Native American employees with career ladder enhancement, self-development training, or otherwise enhance your agency's ability to meet or increase the needs of your Native American public and your Native American employees.

The Office has a tuition reimbursement program for employees interested in furthering their education for increasing their job skills. The IOC also provides extensive training to its employees by participating in the Statewide Training Clearinghouse and the Department of Human Rights training. The IOC Leadership consistently encourages and supports all employees who may desire professional training and development opportunities, provides cross-training opportunities to enhance our workforce, and offers an internal "lead worker" opportunity as part of our collective bargaining agreement.

- c. Recommendations provided by Department of Human Rights, Central Management Services or the Auditor General:

No recommendations were provided. However, The EEO Officer will continue to nurture our relationships with various minority organizations to provide them with copies of job vacancy postings and will continue working collaboratively within the interview and selection processes to ensure qualified minorities are considered and/or hired.
