My comment; It is my understanding that Illinois is ranked 45th out of 50 states in delivery of the covid vaccine into the arms of its citizens. Why hasn't the State stepped up its efforts to help out. Each county in Illinois has its own challenges. Seniors are not able to get thru on the internet to find open dates. Why can't the state set up a central system so seniors & others who qualify don't have to get up in the middle of the night & keep trying to find available vaccines. How is it possible that states like West VA are doing a better job? In fact most states are doing a better job than Illinois. How Quickly will this problem be fixed?
