HOUSE RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were offered and placed in the Committee on Rules.

HOUSE RESOLUTION 69

Offered by Representative Harper:

WHEREAS, The National Institutes of Health reports that there are nearly 7,000 diseases and conditions that affect fewer than 200,000 Americans, which means that they are considered rare; and

WHEREAS, While each of these diseases may affect small numbers of people, rare diseases as a group affect nearly 30 million Americans, 50 percent of whom are children; and

WHEREAS, Many rare diseases are serious and debilitating conditions that have a significant impact on the lives of those affected; and

WHEREAS, While the Food and Drug Administration has approved drugs and biologics for more than 1,000 rare disease indications, millions of Americans have rare diseases for which there is no approved treatment; and

WHEREAS, Individuals and families affected by rare diseases often experience problems, such as diagnosis delay, difficulty finding a medical expert, and lack of access to treatments or ancillary services; and

WHEREAS, While the public is familiar with some rare diseases, such as muscular dystrophy and amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, which is better known as Lou Gehrig's disease, and is sympathetic to those affected, many patients and families affected by lesser-known rare diseases bear a large share of the burden of funding research and raising public awareness to support the search for treatments; and

WHEREAS, With nearly one in 10 Americans diagnosed with a rare disease, thousands of Illinois residents are among those affected by rare diseases; those affected were given a voice in 2017 with the establishment in this State of the Rare Disease Advisory Commission; and

WHEREAS, The Orphan Drug Act has encouraged and promoted the discovery and development of biopharmaceuticals designed to treat and potentially cure rare diseases; and

WHEREAS, Many of the world's leading academic institutions, academic medical centers, biotech companies, and pharmaceutical companies that are conducting research and seeking cures for rare diseases are doing so in this State; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE ONE HUNDRED THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, that we declare March 9, 2023 as Rare Disease Day in the State of Illinois in order to raise awareness of rare diseases, support individuals and families who struggle with rare diseases, bring attention to the need for research and funding to support the discovery and development of therapies designed to treat and potentially cure rare diseases, and support the continued work of the Illinois Rare Disease Commission; and be it further

RESOLVED, That suitable copies of this resolution be presented to the Illinois Biotechnology Innovation Organization, Chairperson Maria Bellefeuille of the Illinois Rare Disease Commission, and the Department of Public Health.

HOUSE RESOLUTION 71

Offered by Representative Hanson:

WHEREAS, The U.S. Census Bureau has admitted that they undercounted the State of Illinois during the 2020 Census; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE ONE HUNDRED THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, that we urge the Biden Administration to adjust federal funding levels for undercounted areas and to see that Illinois receives the funds appropriate to its actual population, not the undercount; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the State of Illinois should take all appropriate steps to ensure undercounted communities within the State receive their proper funding; and be it further

RESOLVED, That suitable copies of this resolution be delivered to President Biden and Governor Pritzker.

HOUSE RESOLUTION 74

Offered by Representative Friess:

WHEREAS, The average dental school graduate owes over $290,000 in debt by the time they enter the workforce; and

WHEREAS, During 2020, it was found that the average Illinoisan made $62,930 and that the average rural Illinoisan made only $47,449; and

WHEREAS, The aging of populations in rural communities makes it more difficult for essential businesses to remain open, forcing people to move away from rural areas and into cities, where necessary businesses are much closer; and

WHEREAS, Rural flight is a documented phenomenon wherein people, who have lived in rural areas for most if not all of their entire life, move to cities for higher wages, easier work, proximity to necessities, and access to education; and

WHEREAS, Rural communities are not immune to inflation caused by worker shortages spurred by people fleeing their communities; and

WHEREAS, The field of dentistry is only sustainable as long as there are enough people nearby who are in need of services; and

WHEREAS, The federal government has many social welfare programs, including Medicare and Medicaid, that provide healthcare to over 20% of individuals in rural communities over the age of 65; and

WHEREAS, Medicare and Medicaid do not cover dental work, leaving the most vulnerable populations at risk for poor oral health and oral diseases, which often leads to additional medical issues; and

WHEREAS, The existence of rural America is at stake, and providing access to dental care for people in these areas could help the communities continue to exist; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE ONE HUNDRED THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, that we urge the federal government to take action on the issue of rural dental care to save these communities from deteriorating any further; and be it further

RESOLVED, That suitable copies be sent to the Senate Finance Committee of the United States Congress, President of the United States Joe Biden, and the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services for their consideration.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION 14

Offered by Representative Haas:

WHEREAS, It is necessary to recognize those who are dedicated to the betterment of the State of Illinois and their communities; and

WHEREAS, Jack Wayne Sikma was born in Kankakee to Grace and Clarence Sikma; he lived in rural Wichert while growing up and attended St. Anne High School; and

WHEREAS, Jack Sikma was a guard his first three years of high school, before his height reached 6'10" as he entered his senior season; with the nickname "the Wichert Wonder", he led the St. Anne High School Cardinals to a fourth-place finish in the 1974 Illinois High School Association (IHSA) Class A boys basketball tournament, scoring 100 points in his four tournament games; and

WHEREAS, Jack Sikma played collegiate basketball at Illinois Wesleyan University in Bloomington; he majored in accounting and graduated in 1977; after being heavily recruited by many Division I schools, he decided to enroll at Illinois Wesleyan, swayed by his close relationship with Illinois Wesleyan Coach Dennie Bridges and being able to immediately play as a freshman; he also liked that Illinois Wesleyan had several Division I schools on their schedule; and

WHEREAS, At Illinois Wesleyan University, Jack Sikma was a three-time National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA Division III) All-American and averaged 27.0 points and 15.4 rebounds as a senior; he was chosen as the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin (CCIW) Most Outstanding Player for three straight years; he was later inducted into the D3 Hall of Fame (2012) and the Small Schools Basketball Hall of Fame (2017) and was a member of the D3 50th & 75th All-Anniversary Teams; he was also a two-time Academic All-American and was selected to the CoSIDA Academic All-American Hall of Fame; and

WHEREAS, Jack Sikma remains Illinois Wesleyan University's all-time leading scorer and rebounder; he averaged 21.2 points (2,272 career points) and 13.1 rebounds (1,405 career rebounds); in each of his last three seasons, the Titans won College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin Conference Championships and advanced to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Tournament; and

WHEREAS, Jack Sikma was a first round pick, drafted with the eighth overall selection in the 1977 NBA draft by the Seattle SuperSonics; due to the relatively small size of his alma mater, he was considered an unknown quantity compared to the "established, well-publicized stars" taken before him; and

WHEREAS, As a rookie in 1977-1978, Jack Sikma averaged 10.7 points and 8.3 rebounds, as the SuperSonics played in the NBA Finals, losing to the Washington Bullets in seven games; he was named to the NBA All-Rookie Team in 1978; and

WHEREAS, The next season, 1978-1979, Jack Sikma averaged 15.6 points and 12.4 rebounds and became an All-Star; he averaged a double-double of 14.8 points and 11.7 rebounds in the playoffs and, along with teammates Dennis Johnson, Gus Williams, and Paul Silas, defeated the Washington Bullets and Wes Unseld in an NBA Finals rematch; his final free throws were the last points scored by the SuperSonics to win the series; and

WHEREAS, In 1984, Jack Sikma signed a five-year contract with the SuperSonics; General Manager Les Habegger remarked, "After careful consideration, we concluded that we could look far and wide and never obtain another center of his caliber."; he continued his All-Star caliber play but was forced to undergo finger surgery in 1985; and

WHEREAS, In 1986, Jack Sikma and Seattle's 1988 second round draft pick were traded to the Milwaukee Bucks in exchange for Alton Lister and Milwaukee's first-round draft picks in 1987 and 1989; Milwaukee Coach Don Nelson felt that with this trade he gained the missing piece of a team that had frequently dominated the regular season before being exposed at the center position in the playoffs; Milwaukee struggled with injuries leading to the playoffs; and

WHEREAS, In the initial playoff series, Jack Sikma scored 11 points in the fourth quarter to get past Charles Barkley and the Philadelphia 76ers; in the next series, the Bucks were defeated by the Boston Celtics in a seven-game series, in which he was one of eight players fined for fighting or leaving the bench to join the brawl; and

WHEREAS, During the pre-season, Jack Sikma and the Bucks participated in the diplomatically-oriented Basketball Open, a round-robin, exhibition tournament that included a match with the U.S.S.R. national team and the Italian national team; and

WHEREAS, With the Bucks, Jack Sikma showed his superb shooting skills and made the playoffs every year for the remainder of his career; despite being the team's center, he was one of the most effective free throw shooters in the league and would shoot technical free throws for the team; he set a then-record of 51 games without a free throw miss; his late-career three point shooting was cited as a sign of league-wide adoption; and

WHEREAS, In 1989, Jack Sikma faced his former team in what was then the longest game in the shot clock era, winning in the fifth overtime; he remained an effective big man into his final season, playing 77 regular season games and three playoff games, including twice grabbing 14 rebounds in a game; and

WHEREAS, In five seasons and 392 games with the Bucks, Jack Sikma averaged 13.4 points, 7.9 rebounds, and 2.9 assists, shooting 45% from the floor and 88% from the line; and

WHEREAS, With the SuperSonics, Jack Sikma was selected to seven consecutive All-Star Games, from 1979 to 1985; in nine seasons and 715 games with Seattle, he averaged a double-double of 16.8 points, 10.8 rebounds, along with 3.3 assists, 1.1 steals, and 1.0 blocks, shooting 47% from the field and 83% from the line; and

WHEREAS, Jack Sikma was a pioneer as one of the earliest sharp-shooting big men, a role that would become common after the turn of the 21st century; as a center, his distinct shot and uncharacteristic accuracy allowed him to play a role outside of the paint; his signature Sikma-1/Sikma-2 moves were key to future agile centers; instructional coach Pete Newell wrote on Sikma's signature move in his 2008 book, "Playing Big" as "baseline moves for loose defenses"; towards the end of his career, where his lack of athleticism prevented him from using his eponymous move and no other big men appeared to be able to replicate it, he stated that coaches were inquiring about the technique even though he believed it would be defunct upon his retirement; and

WHEREAS, Jack Sikma's overall strength and height, combined with his shooting ability and rebounding, became a more common prototype long after his retirement, with protegees like Yao Ming and Kevin Love becoming quality players in the NBA; on a January 2019 NBA TV segment, former players Chris Webber, Isaiah Thomas, and Kevin McHale discussed his unexpected influence on modern-day basketball play with a segment entitled "Jack Sikma's moves still being used today" and focused on common moves taller players have since adopted to utilize their shooting and passing abilities; the "stretch 5" has since become common in the NBA, with the number of three pointers made by centers sharply increasing; his moves remain widely taught in amateur basketball, including being one of College Basketball Hall of Fame coach Bo Ryan's five required skills for his team's big men, being cited by local girls' basketball coaches in 2019, and being strongly touted by college players born well after his retirement; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE ONE HUNDRED THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, THE SENATE CONCURRING HEREIN, that we designate the portion of Illinois Route 1 from Wichert Road to St. Anne as the "Honorary Jack Sikma Road"; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Illinois Department of Transportation is requested to erect at suitable locations, consistent with State and federal regulations, appropriate plaques or signs giving notice of the name of the "Honorary Jack Sikma Road"; and be it further

RESOLVED, That suitable copies of this resolution be presented to Jack Sikma and the Secretary of the Illinois Department of Transportation.

WHEREAS, Sgt. Rittmanic was a valiant Illinoisan and a proud member of the Bradley and Kankakee County communities who will be remembered for bravely and honorably serving its citizens; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE ONE HUNDRED THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, THE SENATE CONCURRING HEREIN, that we designate the 315 Overpass on U.S. Route 57 as the "Sergeant Marlene R. Rittmanic Memorial Highway"; and be it further
